

Volcanoes National Park

Nothing can prepare one for the impact of encountering a fully-grown silver-back gorilla, up to three times the size of an average man, yet remarkably peaceable, playful and tolerant of human visitors

EVERREYS CAN ENJOY WATCHING THE gorillas and the amusing antics of their young

It is a privilege to spend an hour watching the gorillas as they go about their daily routine, feeding, playing and resting - as you question your primeval existence and relive the wonder that kept Dian Fossey living in the forest for almost 18 years. Her grave site, a two hour trek, is a memorial to her study of the gorillas and their resultant preservation. The gorillas habitat, in the mountainous north, is the string of magnificent Virunga peaks that range from 2 500 to

4500 meters; Karisimbi, Bisoke, Mikeno, Sabyinyo, Gahinga and Muhabura volcanoes. This stunning backdrop is host to over half the world's wild mountain gorillas. The exhilarating climb to the gorilla's natural habitat of shady bamboo forest offers fantastic views in all directions and explores the rich ecosystems of blending evergreen and bamboo forests, open grasslands, swamps and heath
